Take Control of the Digital-Age Classroom

Aruba can make IT initiatives a success.

As schools enter the digital renaissance, they find themselves in a race to keep up with new trends that help students learn quicker and retain more. Nowadays, the average K-12 student brings multiple devices on campus each day that connect to your network. Your school must plan for—and tackle—new security concerns that come with district-supplied devices and BYOD initiatives—not to mention potential problems caused by privately owned phones and tablets. It's an issue you can't ignore.

That is why more and more schools are turning to Aruba. With Aruba, your wired, wireless, and WAN infrastructures are up and running in minutes. Once operational, modern cloud micro services deliver the monitoring and reporting to manage distributed environments of all sizes.
