

IMPROVE TEACHING AND LEARNING

Empower Educators and Students with Microsoft Tools

Microsoft in Education Global
Training Partner

“We worked with Connection to offer multiple remote training sessions for our educators that were targeted towards best practices in Microsoft 365. Connection’s Professional Development Specialists are former educators, who understand how technology is best applied within schools.”

Victor Woodroffe
Director of Information Technology
Minuteman Regional Vocational
Technical School District

Bringing teachers and students together in person to explore modern and effective technology is what we do. But we understand it’s not always as easy as that. As devices and applications evolve—or are replaced by something entirely new—the need for professional development becomes that much more apparent. We can help you navigate and adapt to an ever-changing environment by supporting your continued growth and improvement either on-site or virtually. Our workshops focus on your top needs, are led by former educators who are certified trainers, and are built to help you progress like never before.
